

Hi,

ManageEngine is conducting a seminar on October 3rd at Los Angeles and October 5th at Chicago. They are one of the leading providers of Active Directory management systems, and I think attending this seminar on 'Next-gen security hardening of Windows Active Directory' would be very beneficial for me and our IT Team. Not only is the seminar of a great value, but it would also give me a chance to bring back a number of beneficial practices and tips from fellow participants. I will also be able to expand my network across ManageEngine product team members. Attending the seminar will allow me to gain valuable insight on where we stand on Active Directory security management and monitoring practices.

Another benefit of the seminar is being able to sync up with ManageEngine on the latest product news and roadmaps. I'll also be able to ask questions or raise issues we have with ManageEngine directly. In addition, AD MVP, Derek Melber will be addressing which ensures bytes of knowledge transfer.

In summary, I would like to have your approval to attend this seminar. I think it will provide a beneficial experience and value for me as well as our company. Please visit the link below to find out more on the same.
